TOWN TRUSTEES EXTEND REDWOOD CITY FIRE ZONE

The trustees of the town of Redwood City met last Monday evening for their regular meeting and passed the ordinance extending the fire-limits which had been given its preliminary hearing at a previous meeting. The new ordinance extends the present fire limits to include all of Main street to Five Points.

The matter of parking in the busy section of town was brought before the board by Trustee McNulty, who maintained that the growth of the town and the narrow streets made it desirable to enforce the parking ordinance. The board instructed Chief of Police Collins to have suitable signs made warning motorists that the parking limit in the business district is 40 minutes. After the signs are in place the ordinance will be rigidly enforced. In this way it is thought that the question which is so apparent at present will be remedied.

The matter of placing street signs in the intersections was brought to the attention of the board by Trustee Seeger. The growth of the city has resulted in many new comers being in town who are not familiar with the streets. This matter was referred to City Engineer Dimmitt, who will ascertain the cost of suitable signs and will report on the matter to the board at the next meeting.

The question of street work occupied the board during a greater portion of the meeting. The first matter to be taken up was the paving of the shoulders of the highway through town. Several property owners were present and it was apparent that there existed some difference of opinion as to what type of paving should be used, some desiring a concrete base and others asphaltic base. It was decided to call an informal public meeting at the city hall next Monday night. The property owners along the highway are asked to attend this meeting, where it is hoped an amacible settlement can be effected.

As Monday night was the time set for hearing protests on the paving of portions of Hilton, Casia and Maple streets, this matter was taken up. There were no protests and the board ordered that the clerk advertise for bids.

A resolution adopting plans and specifications for the paving of Harrison avenue between Cleveland and Adams streets, was passed without any protest, as was a resolution of intention, for the opening up of Oakdale streets to conect with Whipple avenue.

Sparks—Southern Pacific has had 11 trains in transit at one time between Sparks and Roseville. Roseville plant icing average of 700 filled and 300 empty cars daily.

NEW FIRE ALARM SYSTEM INSTALLED AT HIGH SCHOOL

Fire Chief Mark Ryan this week completed the installation of a new fire alarm system in the Sequoia Union High School. The system consists of six small ringing boxes connected to the master box at the corner of Brewster street and Birch street. By pulling the lever in any of the six boxes the alarm will be turned in from the master box. The new boxes are located at convenient points about the school building.

When the system was completed last Tuesday an alarm was turned in from one of the new boxes and the fire department was on the ground with their engine within a few seconds after the contact was made in the small box, in less time, in fact, than it would have taken a person to have run to the box on the corner to turn in an alarm from that box.

CONGRESSMAN FREE TO STUMP STATE FOR PRES. COOLIDGE

Congressman Arthur M. Free left Washington this week for the purpose of making a campaign in California for President Calvin Coolidge. He spent much of last week conferring with President Coolidge and Republican party leaders on issues involved in the campaign and is prepared to cover a diversity of subjects during the tour. Mr. Free was selected for this important work because of his record in congress and the wide acquaintanceship he has established throughout the east by speeches made in many cities on th Japanese immigration question.

The congressman's familiarity with politics in California was back of his statement to President Coolidge that La Follettee's peak had been reached in California, that it is now sliding backward, and that California can be counted on to give the president a big majority. He is expected to stress this in his campaign talks, pointing out that Johnson supporters are getting behind Coolidge, not only in California, but everywhere in the country, there being a continuous falling off in the ranks of the radical element.

Just how long Congressman Free will be kept on the stump, the speakers' bureau has not decided. Officials indicated that they were anxious to have him continue speaking right up to the close of the campaign.

It is the expectation of the club that a record attendance will be present and more are expected to attend than the auditorium of the school will accomodate.

This meeting will be the big Republican rally of the year, and according to the officers of the club will eclipse any former events of a similar character ever held here. In the words of one of the officers of the Coolidge Club, "The government of our country is at stake this election, and it is the duty of every good citizen to turn out and support the president against those who would overthrow the institutions which have made this country what it is today."

While the speaker is not definitely assured, it is understood that it lays between Dr. Barrows, former regent of the University of California and John McNab of San Francisco. KIWANIANS SEE FIRE DEMONSTRATION

Members of the Redwood City Kiwanis Club were given an opportunity to see the actual work of Redwood City's volunteer fire department last Tuesday. The weekly luncheon meeting of the club was under the chairmanship of Fire Chief Mark Ryan, who, in connection with the national observance of Fire Prevention Week, which was observed all this week, explained the methods used in zoning the town for the fire alarm signal system, and explained the use of "immaginery boxes". In this system, Ryan explained, boxes are designated and given numbers where no box has been installed. A phone call from a district served by an immaginery box is run in the same as a call from the box whose number would cover the district from which the call was made. This system is to meet the needs of the growing town, which cannot be met all at once by installing new boxes, as the cost of the boxes is too great to be borne all at once.

Ryan gave an actual demonstration of the work of the department, when he pulled the lever of a fire box which he had had installed in the dining room of the hotel where the luncheon took place. The alarm was sounded on a gong in the room at the same time the gong in the firehouse rang. One minute after the gong had sounded the first round of the alarm, the members of the fire company were in the hotel with a hose full of water. This performance brought a great round of applause from the Kiwanians.

In relation to the firemen's work, Joe Perry whose store had burned last Friday night, praised the work of the department. "I thought that the whole thing would be a loss," said Perry, and "I was surprised at the way in which the firemen succeeded in saving so much of my property."

Riverside—Drainage district may begin work to reclaim 800 to 900 acres.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE BURNS J. B. PERRY'S FEED-FUEL STORE

A fire of unknown origin late last Friday night completely gutted the feed and fuel store of J. B. Perry at the corner of Main and Cedar streets. The fire had gained considerable headway before it was discovered, and the inflamable contents of the building were a mass of flames. A call was sent to the fire department which was answered in a record time. When the department arrived the scene was one of havoc. One of the firemen described the building as a "blazing inferno," and according to the owner, he did not expect to be able to save any of the stock within the structure.

The department, however, went to work with a will, and in a remarkably short time succeeded in quelling the flames, and reduced the loss to a minimum. The building was used chiefly as a storage for grain, and it is estimated that about $10,000 worth of this was burned. This loss was not covered by insurance as Perry had just finished unloading four cars of grain which had not yet been insured. Much of this, however, was saved by the heroic efforts of the fire department. Out of gratitude for the saving which had been made, Perry this week presented the fire department with a check for $100.

SUPERVISORS PASS ORDINANCE AIMED AT BOOTLEGGERS

An ordinance which is intended as a blow to the bootleggers of the county was introduced in the meeting of the board of supervisors last Monday on a motion of John MacBain and seconded by Supervisor Hickey. It was passed without dissent. District Attorney Swart, by whom the ordinance was prepared, stated emphatically that this ordinance had nothing to do with the present excitement against the bootlegger.

"I am not a bootleg chaser," said Swart in presenting his ordinance, "and do not intend to become one. If the Wright act is to be continued and enforced it will be necessary for the state to provide an enforcement division to handle it. There are duties, however, which the law places on me and the other officers of the county, and the passage of this ordinance will materially assist me in performing them."

According to the provisions of the new ordinance before any person, firm or corporation can engage in business of certain classes, he must first secure a license from the board of supervisors. The license fee is fixed at $20 per annum. The class of business effected by the new ordinance include:

1 Any place where any beverage or drink is sold or offered for sale.

2 Any rooming house, lunch counter, or place where dancing is permitted as a business.

3 Any place where slot machines, punch boards, or other games of chance are permitted.

The application for a permit to opperate any of these classes of business must state the name, address, occupation of the applicant and must state in detail the business which he intends to conduct. It must further state whether the applicant has ever been convicted of any crime, and if so give full details concerning the conviction. The license when it is issued may be at any time revoked by the supervisors.

The matter of the application of the Koff Realty Company of San Francisco for the approval of a map of a proposed subdivision in the extreme southern end of the county to be called Palo Alto Park was laid over for further consideration by the board. The proposal has met with considerable opposition in Ravenswood, Atherton, Runnymede and Palo Alto, all surrrounding settlements. The Realty company was represented at Monday's meeting by Attorney Lee Ross of this city. Attorneys Ed. Laken of Palo Alto and James O'Keefe of Redwood City, appeared before the board for the opponents of the propostion. Those who opose the acceptance of the map contend that the dividing of the territory in that district into 50-foot lots, as proposed, would be harmful to the surrounding country, which is essentially a farming country, it is claimed.

A letter was received from the Menlo Park Parent-Teacher Association asking that a special traffic officer be apointed by the board to assist the children in crossing the highway in going to and from school. This matter was referred to District Attorney Swart for his consideration.

A resolution was passed by the board as proposed by the Down Town Association of San Francisco. This resolution asks that certain highways of this county be incorporated into the state highway system. This resolution will be presented to the Committee of Nine apointed by Governor Richardson. It is proposed and extended to Santa Cruz; that the Bayshore highway be built from San Francisco to San Jose and that the present Juanipero Sera avenue be extended to meet the El Camino Real at a point near the cemetaries. For this it is proposed that the right of way of the old Ocean Shore railway be used.

S. P. GATEMAN SUCCUMBS TO SHOCK OF AN AUTO ACCIDENT

Local Editor Has Miraculus Escape From Injury When Train Crashes His Car at Broadway Crossing

James Hedge, editor of the Redwood City Standard., very narrowly escaped death last Monday evening in an accident which resulted fatally for Marinus S. Hesselberg, flagman for the S. P. Company. The accident occured at the Broadway crossing of the S. P. tracks as Hedge who was coming into town was crossing the tracks. A freight train was aproaching the crossing from the south, and as the gates were out of order, the gateman was on the crossing with a lantern.

As Hedge aproached the crossing, he noticed that the gates were up, and failed to see the flagman or the train. He noticed the latter when it was almost upon him, and tried to speed up his machine in order to escape a wreck. It was too late, however, for the engine struck the rear part of his machine and threw it a distance of fifteen feet onte Arguello street. As the car was struck it burst into flames and was hurled clear of the ground a mass of fire. The machine landed on its side and the driver was able to crawl out and turn in an alarm. He was practically uninjured.

It was not until after the alarm had been turned in that Hedge noticed the gateman, who was dead at that time. How the gateman came to his death is not absolutely certain. Witnesses of the accident thought that he had been struck by the wrecked car as it was thrown by the locomotive. It was thought that his neck was broken. Examination, however, failed to disclose any bruises or marks on the body, and it was thought that he died of shock at the sight.

An inquest was held Wednesday morning and the jury brought in the following verdict:

"We find that the deceased came to his death through shock due to the intense excitement which excitement was caused by witnessing an automobile accident, which matter has been presented to this jury. We find that the deceased was suffering from organic trouble to which we trace his death. We find that the crossing is not sufficiently protected in case the gates become inoperative."

Hesselberg was a native of Denmark, and was 68 years of age. He had been employed on the broadway crossing for 4 months. He is survived by three grown children, two sons, Victor and Marinus, Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Catherine Rasmussen, all of San Francisco.

The car in which Hedge was driving was completely wrecked by the accident, the whole rear end having ben ripped off by the force of the collission. The driver fortunately escaped with a slight cut across the face.

CROWDS GET GAME RETURNS AT ELECTRICAL STORE

Hundreds of sport fans received the returns of the great world series from New York as soon as the plays were made. This was made possible by a loud speaking radio set installed in front of Grimmenstein's electrical store on Main street. This convenient way of receiving the returns, together with a score board, which the local merchant had erected, proved a great drawing card and attracted numbers of baseball enthusiasts all during the series.

MANY SEQUOIA GRADUATES CONTINUE ATTENDANCE AT HIGHER INSTITUTIONS

According to figures secured from Sequoia Union High School there are at present 29 of last year's graduates attending institutions of higher education. The greater number of these are enrolled in the Junior College at San Mateo, which gives a two-year course equal to two years at an accredited university. Those of last year's class who are attending the institution at San Mateo are: John Staugus, Jerome McDonald, Rudolph Israel. Merle Basham, DeAlton Wentworth, Christine Graves, Dorothy Chilcott, Bernice Martin, Noble Cloud, Elbert Thomas, Arnold Torres, Jack Kellogg, Margaret Harrington, Carrol Kunze and Karl Kunze.

Two of the class of last year, Norman Hedge and Margaret Kalenborn, are attending Stanford, and one, Kimbal Anderson, is enrolled at the University of California.

Six girls of the class have been attracted to the teaching profession and are now attending the San Jose State Teachers College. These are Georgiana Hoenck, Aurelia Brown, Brown, Lois Leary, Pearl Beer, Alberta Choat and Helen French.

The remaining five are taking post graduate work at Sequoia. They are Thomas Barnby, Marie Haurat, Florence Mack, Carmen Modi and Richard Parkin.

The number graduated last year was 68, of this number more than 42 per cent have continued their school attendance. This is a greater percentage than last year. In fact the percentage of graduates who continue in school appears to be increasing regularly, due in part, to the increased facilities offered by the establishment of the Junior College at San Mateo and in part to a greater appreciation of the value of education.

Of the remaining 39, many are now working with the intention of attending some educational institution later.

SAFEGUARDING THE CHILDREN

SUPERINTENDENT A. E. MONTEITH of the local school department is to be congratulated upon his watchful care of the boys and girls under his charge. Members of his safety squad who daily act as crossing guards carry on their work with the skill of seasoned officers.

Just before dismissal time boys are at each corner. They stop approaching machines if it is necessary and see that all of the little fellows are safe when crossing the streets. Autoists pay just as much attention to the boys as they would to policemen. They recognize the spirit in which the young citizens are doing their work, and willingly co-operate with them.

Mr. Monteith is also carrying on some interesting experiments in student self government, which will, without doubt, be of great value both to the pupils and to the school. He is a forward looking man and is conducting an efficient and up-to-date school system.

DANGEROUS CROSSINGS

WE rejoice with our friend, Mr. Jas. D. Hedge of the Standard, in his fortunate escape from serious injury Monday night. Few men live to tell the story when the machine in which they are riding is struck by a train. The accident which befell Mr. Hedge might have happened to any one. He was used to seeing the gates lowered when a train was approaching. He did not know that the gates were out of repair and so was not thinking of a watchman at the crossing.

This accident demonstrates the need of an undertrack crossing at this point. The auto and foot traffic in Redwood City has become so great that considerable annoyance is occasioned by necessary delays when trains are on the Broadway crossing. There is also a great amount of danger for students who must cross the tracks several times daily, going and returning from high school and the convent.

We trust, therefore, that some action may be taken looking towards underground crossings at the railroad and also on Broadway at El Camino Real.

GOOD FIRE WORK

FIRE CHIEF MARK E. RYAN gave a most interesting talk on the work and qquipment of the local fire department at the Kiwanis meeting Tuesday and then gave a demonstration of the eflectiveness of the department which he heads.

In just fifty-five seconds from the time he turned in an alarm at the Sequoia Hotel the firemen reached the scene with all of the apparatus; coupled a house to a hydrant and had a supply of water and chemical in the dining room.

This remarkably good showing demonstrated to all of the Kiwanians that the Redwood City fire department is a real live organization. There was no lost time. The men knew their duty and performed it in a manner to invite the praise of the observers. Later Mr. Ryan gave a similar demonstration to the pupils of the elementary school.

Redwood City is to be cnogratulated upon having such an efficient body of men in charge of this all-important department of our municipal government.

COOLIDGE GAINING MOMENTUM

EACH day sees some advantage gained in the presidential race by President Coolidge over his rivals. One of the most recent gains by the president was when the Vanderbilt papers pledged their support to the present government. This widely read chain of papers covering a greater portion of the west, has gone on record as uncompromisingly behind the president in his campaign for reelectoin. In taking this stand Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., stated, "I desire to say that, regardless of partisan feelings, I join myself with many others who are glad we had Calvin Coolidge to take hold of the reins of government at the time of the tragic death of the late Warren G. Harding. As vice-president and president, by word and deed, he has justified the faith which inspired his election." The attitude of Vanderbilt is the attitude of thousands, who are every day aligning themselves on the side of Calvin Coolidge and prosperity. Congressman Free from this district, one of the most astute politicians in Washington, claims that the campaign of the president's rivals has reached a peak and is on the decline, not only in California, but in the country as a whole. We believe that this is the case. The public which may be swayed by a great hurrah at first, soon begins to consider the fundamental questions at stake and generally chooses wisely. It is this wise consideration which will reelect President Coolidge next month with an overwhelming plurality.

ONE OF REDWOOD CITY'S NEEDS

TWICE this week have accidents occured which necessitated medical attention immediately for the victim of the accident. Many times persons are struck by cars or injured in auto accidents in Redwood City. In case of injury no very convenient means of conveyance can be secured for the injured person. There is no ambulance in town and the injured prson must be piled into the rear seat of a car and taken to the hospital. This may prove more painful and disastrous to the person than the accident, especially if he be suflering from internal injuries. The need of a public ambulance, in which an injured person might be taken in safety to the community hospital, or other place of treatment has been called to our attention. We believe it is a good suggestion. Redwood City could purchase an ambulance to be left at the firehouse and be used by the police department at any time in the day or night. The cost would be slight compared to the service it would render if it resulted in the saving of a single life. This ambulance could be easily called by central just as the night watchman is at present. We offer this as a suggestion to the officers and people of Redwood City. We think it would fill a present need.

Karnak Proves Revelation To Californians

According to the testimony of thousands of California citizens Andre's phenomenal new medicine, Karnak, is a revelation to weak, rundown people.

Among the latest to testify to its remarkable qualities is Mr. John Adams, well known confectioner, 2804 Maple Avenue, Los Angeles:

"I've never seen the equal of Karnak," states Mr. Adams. "I had gotten into such a weak, rundown condition that I hardly had strength enough to attend to business.

"I have just finished my second bottle of Karnak now, and have already gained four pounds. That weak, rundown condition is all gone, and I don't know when I have felt so good as I do now. It is certainly remarkable how quickly and thoroughly Karnak does the work."

Karnack is sold in Redwood City by the Young Drug Co., and by the leading druggists in every town.

A temperature variation of 20 degrees or more is an almost daily occurrence during Fall months. Do you realize what this does to perishable foods kept in the so-called "kitchen cooler"? It's dangerous! It starts bacterial growth that may cause sickness and always robs food of some of its nutritive value.

Play safe! Keep your perishable foods in a well-iced refrigerator—all the time. That is the only way you can be sure of keeping your food fresh, pure and wholesome.

SAN MATEO COUNTY SIXTY-FOUR YEARS AGO

What was the appearance of San Mateo county sixty-four years ago? Has it changed in that time? A description of the county and the towns which existed at that time is found in the very firs issue of the Gazette, published April 9, 1869. Striking differences will be noiced at the present time. This article of sixty-four years ago reads in part as follows:

"San Mateo county is bounded on the east by the middle of the Bay of San Francisco; on the west by the Pacific Ocean; on the north by the line of the United States survey, separating townships Two and Three, South (Mount Diablo meridian), being a line running east and west from the bay to the ocean and crossing the San Francisco road a little north of the "Abbey Hotel;" on the south by the San Francisto-quito creek, following the south branch thereof to its sonrce in the Santa Cruz mountains and by a line thence due west to the Pacific ocean. These boundaries contain the following Mexican Grants: a part of the Merced and Visitacion or San Bruno and the whole of the Buri Buri, San Pedro, Caral de Tierra, Feliz, San Mateo, Pulgas Raemundo or Copperinger, Purissima, and a part of the San Gregorio and Corte de Madera.

"The county is divided into three townships, the first being all that part lying north and east of a line running from the Embarcadero at Belmont, west to a point where the road crosses the top of the mountain, just north of Wilsey's house; thence north along the top of the mountains to a point just a little northeast of the residence of James Dennison; thence west to the ocean. The Second township is all the territory south of the above mentioned line and west to the ocean. The Third township is all that territory south of the first mentioned line and east of the top of the mountains.

The number of votes polled at the last election was five hundred and thirteen, which will probably be increased to about six hundred by the next election.

We have within our county several places that may be properly termed local centers—places where people go on business and for pleasure. The most important of these is—

REDWOOD CITY, the county seat, located on the Pulgas rancho, about twenty-eight miles south of San Francisc, with which city it is connected by a daily double line of stages, and with which also it carries on a considerable trade by water. It contains thirty dwelling houses, one hundred and seventy-five permanent inhabitants, besides a number of transcient persons, three general merchandise stores, two drug stores, two blacksmith shops, one wagon shop, two livery stables, one ship yard, one confectionery, bakery and restaurant, one daguerrian saloon, one good hotel, one bowling alley, one mattress maker and a number of carpenters and persons engaged in the lumber business. This estimate is of the town proper only—there are many inhabitants in the immediate vicinity, who are not included herein. The climate of this place ,like all others in San Mateo county, is delightful, having all the beauties and few of the disagreeabilities of San Francisco. The location is a very healthy one, indeed, an excellent physician who is living here, finds much reason to complain that it is distressingly healthy! The great bulk of the business here is the lumber trade, carried on with San Francisco. This town is the principal outlet for the redwods, the point from which their millions of feet of lumber, posts and shingles are annually shipped. It is about four miles distant from the bay and conected with it by Embarcadero creek, the banks of which are lined with wharves, where may be seen any day during the business season, quite a fleet of small vessels, receiving and discharging their cargoes. We have seen as many as fifteen sails here at one time. This place was platted in 1854 by the proprietors of the Pulgas rancho, and called Mezesville, the name by which it is still known on all deeds and instruments of title, but Redwood City is the more favored and general name; it is the name given in the act locating the county seat. There is a large brick court house and jail here, which was erected last year at a cost of $10,000. Several other brick buildings are in contemplation, to be errected during the coming summer.

BELMONT, three miles north of Redwood City, is one of the most beautiful locations in the county. It is the center of considerable trade, has three stores, a hotel and a restaurant. Here, also, some lumber and a quantity of produce is shipped to San Francisco. Near Belmont is one of the most lovely locations in the state, the country residence of the managing proprietor of the Pulgas rancho.

SAN MATEO, eight miles north of Redwood City, is perhaps one of the most beautiful spots immaginable, and commands the admiration of everyone who has seen it. Situated upon the high lands and in the midst of oaks, sheltered by the western hills from the ocean winds and fogs, with the broad bay and every variety of landscape in view, it is a scene of beauty from which a lover of the picturesque in nature would never willingly turn away. It is a great resort of pleasure parties from the city, many of whose wealthy citizens are looking toward it with a view of locating country seats. Already beautiful and costly residences have been erected in this delightful neighborhood by Messrs Howard, Macondray, Polhemus, Whipple, Cook and others, many more will soon follow.

CRYSTAL SPRINGS in the Canada San Andres, three miles west of San Mateo, is also becoming a resort for pleasure seekers. Situated in a little valley, thickley studded with the clustering liveoaks, surrounded on every side by high mountains, shut out from cold winds and rich in nature's beauties, it is truly a proper resort for the lovers of pleasure.

SPANISHTOWN, situated on Half Moon Bay, is the outlet of the commerce of the western side of the mountains. .It is a fine location, looking fairly out on old Ocean, and it is the center of a rich agricultural district. It has several stores and a variety of other branches of business which go to make up a country town.

WOODSDE, about six miles from Redwood City, though it makes no pretensions to the title of town or village, is nevertheless somewhat of a public place. Situated at the foot of the mountains, in the immediate vicinity of several mills, it is the center of quite a trade. It has one store, in which is the postoffice. Mountain Dell Division, No. 74, Sons of Temperance, is located here. At this point, also, the citizens have done what has not been accomplished in any other place is the county—they have formed a library association and have already accumulated quite an extensive library of excellent works.

SEARSVILLE, a little village two miles and a half south of Woodside, is a considerable of point of trade for lumbermen. Here is quite a town with two stores, a blacksmith shop, two hotels, etc. Here is also another postoffice, established, like the one at Woodside by the government for the accommodation of the people, but both are dependent upon their own resources for mail facilities. They are, however, supplied with a daily mail, which we believe is conveyed to and from Redwood City at the joint expense of these two offices.

Take notice of this date, Oct. 1st

On and after this date all school boys and girls over ten years of age can register in the Home Lighting Contest and get the Home Lighting Primer—Free.

Here is an opportunity to win one of the 11 International Prizes, the first a $15,000 Model Electrical Home and then 10 Scholarships ranging from $1,200 to $300 each.

Six State Prizes totaling $1,000.

Five Cash District and Local Merchandising Prizes.

The purpose of this Home Lighting Contest is to conserve the eyesight of the children. Improper lighting in the home is injurious to eyesight. Teaching children the proper use of light will help to solve this problem.

October 1 marks the beginning of The Home Lighting Contest. Ask for information at your electrical dealers or our office.

I wish publically to thank the members of the Redwood City Fire department and the Redwood City Police department for the wonderful work they did in saving my property from the flames this week. STURDY MATERIALS USED IN ALL TELEPHONE CONSTRUCTION

"As no building permits are issued for the construction of the many telephone booths in use in Redwood City, users take them as a matter of coruse, much the same as they do sidewalks and streets," said Manager J. D. Worthington of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, in this district today. "The sturdy materials which go into the making of the standard telephone booth, used all over the country, furnish jobs for many industries. An ordinary telephone booth contains 247 feet of lumber of eight different varieties. In fastening the various parts together, to withstand constant and hard service, 839 nails, 163 screws and forty pounds of miscellaneous metals are utilized. The 25 skilled mechanics participating in the construction work make use of fourteen powerful types of wood and metal working machines. Telephone booths furnish an indispensable aid to tra-ns lent telephone users in making local and long distance calls."

An impromtu "booth" can be made by any one at any time, according to Worthington, by placing a hand over the telephone mouthpiece, when listening to the party on the other end of the line, and of course, taking it away when speaking through the transmitter. The bulwark made by the soft cushion of the palm over the rubber mouthpiece, keeps foreign noises from going through the transmitter and receiver to the listener's ear and makes it possible to hear the other person distinctly.

Cleaning Without Odor by the F. Thomas Process

Our many years of experience has taught us that it is impossible to do perfect cleaning with cheap, inferior methods. That is why we found it necessary to invest nearly $500,000 in the equipment of a plant and the establishment of an expert organization to do the quality of work demanded by our customers.

With the "F. Thomas Process" we not only remove every particle of dust but we return your garments without that usual disagreeable smell of gasoline. Every drop of gasoline we use in cleaning is redistilled and very highly refined.

Raw gasoline—the kind that you buy for your automobile—is full of heavy oils and unfit for cleaning fabrics. It is little better than ordinary distillate and leaves a sickening "gasoline" smell in your clothes

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

On Sunday, October 5, 1924 in the Palo Alto hospital there was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Van Vleck Anderson, a son. The young ster was named Robert Playfair. Mrs. Anderson was Miss Gracella Rountree of Berkeley, University of California '21, member of Alpha Phi sorority and former president of the Associated Women Students of the state university. Mr. Anderson is a graduate of Stanford with the class of '06 and is a geologist of international reputation. He is a son of Melville Best Anderson, of Menlo Park, professor emeritus of English litearture of Stanford and author of a recently published translation of Dante's "Divine Comedy." The baby is named for his father and for John Playfair, a noted geologist in the Anderson family.

Victoria Manor, the palatial home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Douglas, was the scene of merriment Tuesday afternoon when tre bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Douglas, arrived from their marriage in San Francisco. The bridal party was augmented by a large number of friends from Palo Alto and other neighboring towns. The wedding took place that afternoon at St. Vincent de Paul's Catholic church, Archbishop E. J. Hanna officiating. The reception was held here. The pretty bride was Miss Noel McGettigan, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. McGettigan. The MrGettigans maintain a summer home at Portola. Mr. Douglas is a Stanford man. The young couple are to reside in Menlo Park.

During the week the Edward Lawler lot on Santa Cruz avenue, near the highway, was sold to a local capitalist, who is to erect a modern theatre building with a seating capacity of 500. It is an ideal location for a show house. Work on the building is to start shortly. The property was sold just a year ago to the late Edward Lawler for $450. The price paid by the new purchaser was $2250, a respectable investment profit. It only demonstrates that real estate in Menlo Park is airoplaning. The sale in both instances was made by J. H. Sullivan.

Mr. L. Harrington, the promoter of the Dumbarton bridge, was here the first of the week. To friends here he confinded that work on the much-talked-of bridge would be started shortly. Finances are being provided for by wealthy capitalists of San Francisco and Menlo Park, wro see big returns from the investment and who are willing to back the enterprise to any amount. It would not be surprising to see active work on the bridge begin at any time.

More than 150 men and boys from here marched under the banner of the Holy Name Society in the mammoth parade in San Francisco last Sunday. At the head of the Menlo Park contingent Frank Johnson, who carried a large American flag, John Tuttle, the Holy Name Society banner and Mr. Vincent, who bore the service flag of the Church of the Nativity containing the names of a hundred young men who went to the war. Father Thomas Kennedy, pastor, marched with his parishioners, proud of the showing made by the men of Menlo Park. The beautiful service flag drew forth numerous cheers by the by-standers along the line of march.

Mrs. Henry F. McFeeley, entertained at a bridge party this week for Mrs. Carroll A. Devol of Menlo Park and her daughter, Mrs. Lucille Bates of San Francisco. Mrs. Devol recently returned from an extended stay abroad.

The guests included Mesdames Richard W. Johnson, Ronald D. Johnson, William G. Muldoon, A. C. Wright, G. G. Bailey, William H. Sullivan, Charles H. Stearns, Jean Kullman, G. D. Rice, Frank A. LeSeur, J. F. Kreps, E. Duckheimer, Chester Thomas, W. K. Jones, J. Fowler, Dorothy Buckingham, J. B. Buchanan, Charles Tingley, Harry Anson Burlingame, M. L. Brett, Edward L. Beach, Jane Everts, Henry A. Kinnison and Miss Grace Kinnison and Miss Atkinson. Assisting the hostess were the Misses Dorothy Buckingham, Alice Brett and Jessie Corput.

Mr. and Mrs. James Flood and their daughter, Miss Mary Flood, who have been summering at their country place in Menlo Park, have decided to return to their town house about November 1.

John Orton returned from a trip to France last Saturday. He was away for several months. Mr. Orton surprised his friends by the announcement that he was married to a petite and pretty maiden of Paris on his arrival there last August. A portion of the honeymoon was spent in going over the battle fields of France on which the groom marched with his regiment during the war. The marriage was the culmination of a wartime romance began when Mr. Orton was located near Paris with his regiment. There he met the charming girl and soon their acquaintenance ripened into love. After the war Mr. Orton came home but continued a correspondence with his sweetheart. As absence makes the heart grow fonder, he finally braved the dangers of the long journey over the land and ocean wide to claim his bride, one of the fairest maidens of the vine-clad hills of France. As France's quoto of immigrants hasbeen exhausted, Mrs. Orton cannot be admitted to this country until January first next, at which time she will arrive in New York. Mr. Orton will be waiting for her there to accompany here across the continent to Menlo Park, where they will live in contentment and happiness for evermore.

Linden Towers, the estate of James L. Flood, is undergoing many improvements. The winding avenues are being bitumenized, rolled and beautified. The work is being done under the supervision of F. W. Johnson who is using the material and machinery of the district, Mr. Flood paying the county for the same. The Floods are planning to occupy their city home on November 1.

A Palo Alto real estate firm has been here all week attempting to list property and to secure options on all the choice holdings. No one seems to know what is behind the sensational movement. Many believe the firm has some inside information on the construction of the Dumbarton bridge. Has the idle talk of annexation some thing to do with the affair? It is said fabulous prices have been offered for choice blocks here. Several property owners have been approached and asked to name their figures on their holdings.

The Coolidge and Dawes Club of Menlo Park has 300 members. The organization is preparing to have a rousing rally the latter part of the month. Able speakers will address the meeting. It will be a big affair.

H. J. McDonald of Boston, a former captainof Company A, 319th Engineers, trained at Camp Fremont, visited friends in Menlo Park over the week-end.

At the successful dance given Saturday evening by the Menlo Park Improvement Club, Miss Rae Cronk of Redwood City was voted the most popular girl present and Earl May of Palo Alto won the prize as the most popular man.

FORMER MENLO PARK PRINCIPAL PASSES

John A. Imrie, principal of the La Conte school, Berkeley, passed away at his home in the College City last Friday, after a long illness and was buried in Napa, Monday. Mr. Imrie was for a term county superintendent of schools in Napa county, and on retiring from office became principal of the Menlo Park school. He then represented a school supply company in this county, but gave up that work to take a school in Berkeley. He was a pleasant man of scholarly attainments and will be missed by a wide circle of friends.

NOTES FROM BELMONT

A card party will be given by the P.-T. A. in the Belmont grammar school this evening. Good prizes are offered and judging from the amount of tickets sold there will be a large attendance.

The Misses Carmel and Christine O'Brien will entertain their many friends at a bridge-tea Sunday afternoon at their home on King's Heights.

Mrs. Raymond Kelley and small son visited friends in San Francisco Friday.

Miss Amelia Johnson spent last week end visiting friends in Alameda.

Mr. and Mrs. Heinicke and their daughter, Madeline, will spend the week end in their summer home on King's Heights.

No Power Shortage— A Great Achievement

WITH pride, this Company announces that the perplexing problems presented by the long drought have been solved.

There will be no shortage of power in P. G. and E. territory this year.

All demands for electricity have been met. An increased consumption of approximately twelve per cent has been supplied. Nor will rates be increased.

Behind this simple announcement lies the story of a titanic struggle by a loyal and efficient organization against appalling odds; a fight that was fought and won in silence for a public unaware that it was going on.

California's homes, industries and irrigation depend much on electric power. California uses more electricity per capita than any other state. In terms of wealth and comfort, therefore a shortage of electricity is a serious matter to us all.

Electricity in this state is made primarily by turning a wheel with falling water. Thus fuel is saved. Steam plants, much costlier to operate because they burn oil, are maintained as auxiliaries. So, a water shortage naturally implies a power shortage and higher rates.

For eight years rainfall in California has been below normal, and in 1923-24 the seasonal precipitation was only forty per cent of normal. Stored water in the principal reservoirs north of Tehachapi attained only fifty per cent of reservoir capacity.

When January passed with the drought unbroken the P. G. and E. tackled the problem of making sure of a continuous, adequate service. For weeks the Company's intrepid scouts tramped the remote Sierras on snowshoes measuring the depth and density of what snow there was. Before the Company's engineers was the spectre of the summer's peak demand: the haunting fear that a day would come when factories, mines, farms, railways, stores and homes would be pulling on the lines together and would fail to find enough "juice" for all.

"Conserve water, and bring up steam production; work the steam stand-bys day and night, and get new steam power wherever possible" was the order, to which was added: "Cut operating costs to the minimum in order to meet the increased expense for fuel oil."

By a myriad of ingenuities and new contrivances every drop of stored water has been made to do unprecedented duty in power-production. A great steam plant, costing a million dollars, authorized January 31st, was completed and in service June 16th, a month ahead of schedule. Industrial steam-plants like those of the California Hawaiian Sugar Refinery, Mare Island Navy Yard, Northwestern Pacific Railroad, and the Hercules Powder Company, and plants disused because power bought from the Company is cheaper, were leased by the P. G. and E., oiled, and set to making current. In January the Company had 27 hydro and 5 steam plants. In September it was operating 42 plants. Cost of oil consumed leaped up three million dollars, but rigid economy in other directions held down the increase in cost of power-production so that no increase in rates will be made.

Luck was not kinder than usual. At a critical time, 144 feet of the Stanislaus flume, perched on a trestle 40 feet high, went out, and the break, 15 miles from the base of supplies, shut down a plant of 50,000 horsepower. This flume is 6 feet deep and 9 feet wide, one of the greatest in America. Shifts of heroic toilers made the repairs in 62 hours although the job was estimated to take 96.

At steam plants boiler troubles occur. Repairs ordinarily mean a stop of three days for it takes 24 hours for the interior to cool. In a particular instance a boiler was repaired in 22 hours. Some one went into that torrid boiler and removed the heated brick lining. It was all in the day's work.

Other setbacks occurred such as the prevalence of forest fires, damaging power lines and flumes, but the Company has met the requirements of the public without requesting help or favor. When new consumers asked for service they got it without a murmur. The farmer, who needed more power than ever before, was not denied. No new industry failed to get energy. The twelve per cent increase in demand for power was supplied with a smile, although there were whiles when the engineers felt a palpitation of the heart every time a stout passenger boarded a streetcar on the system.

And now, Victory. The farmer's pumping is done. The strain relaxes. We will fight tomorrow's battles with tomorrow's strength; but rain or shine the mighty Pit No. 3 will come in next season and the Company has no fear of the year ahead.

Contributing to that victory, a victory of which the public get all the fruits, was, first, a devoted and efficient organization, comprising 11,600 employes, always on their toes, guided by initiative and foresight, ambitious to maintain the unfailing standards of Pacific Service.

Then the fact that the P. G. and E., one of the largest hydro-electric companies in the United States, serves a wide territory, drawing power from numerous sources, favored by a great diversity of demand. No single plant, serving one community, could have met the situation.

Finally, the spirit of co-operation among the power companies of California who, for the sake of the public service, fed one another from time to time with surplus power, as the load here fell off, and the load there pressed harder, so that not a kilowatt of current went to waste.

When you think of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, picture a company with 11,600 employes and 30,000 owners, nearly all Californians—a company, serving the public faithfully and on the job in all seasons and at all hours.
